(Wired and Wi-fi Networks Policy)

GNDEC, Ludhiana (the “Institute”), provides wireless as well as wired internet access to the Internet for the entire campus to further enhance the academic mission of the institute and must be used in accordance with the responsibilities stated.

Access is intended for

- Faculty
- Staff
- Students
- Guests

Access is password protected. When using the network the user must use the credentials provided. These login details are unique to each user. Passwords should be kept confidential and not made available to anyone else. In order to connect to the wireless network, devices must have a Wi-fi compatible network card installed. The wireless card should detect the signal immediately. Because some wireless card software may require some additional procedures and/or setting changes, users should consult the device user's manual, or contact the hardware or software provider for additional assistance.

The Internet is a public network and the {Institute} has no control over any of the Internet service providers, information service providers, network providers, content providers or such other similar or equivalent systems and services. Users should be aware that there are security, privacy and confidentiality risks inherent in wireless communications and associated technology. The {Institute} cannot be held liable for any acts or omissions of the above mentioned.

The user is using the Internet service at his / her own risk. No information you consider confidential should be transmitted via this system. By using the system, user agrees to be solely responsible for the content of all information you disseminate. The {Institute} cannot be held liable in the event of any (a) electronic, mechanical and data failure or corruption or (b) damage to my computer whilst connected to this service or due to suspension, termination or failure of this service.

Whilst every effort will be made to make this service available but Technical support will be provided on a very limited basis to any user trying to access the wireless network. The {Institute} do not warrant that wireless access to the Internet system will be uninterrupted, covering hundred percent area, error-free, or free of viruses or other harmful components. The user accepts that this service may be unavailable if the Institute in its discretion decides as such or for any other reasons.

- The Internet service is provided, and may only be used, on the following basis:
